Today’s Agenda

- Syllabus
- Software Engineering Research
- Objects and Classes

Instructor & TA

- Instructor: Jeff Lei, ylei@cse.uta.edu, x2341, 340 NH, Office hours: 12:00pm – 1:00pm, Mon. & Wed.
- TA: Shanshan Lu, shanshan.lu@mavs.uta.edu.
Communication Channel

- Everyone MUST subscribe to the class mailing list cse1325@listserv.uta.edu.

- Use the following instructions to join the list:
  - Compose a message so that its subject line is empty, and its body contains a single line "subscribe cse1325@listserv.uta.edu"
  - Send this message to listserv@listserv.uta.edu.
  - Confirm your subscription by replying the message from the listserv server

---

Textbook

- Textbook
Course Website

- The course web site is available at the following URL: http://crystal.uta.edu/~ylei/cse1325
- Lecture notes, assignments, announcements, and any supplementary materials will be posted on the web site.
- Visit the website at least twice per week.

Grading

- Tentatively, the final grade will be calculated using the following percentages:
  - Homework - 15%
  - Project - 35%
  - Midterm Exam - 20%
  - Final Exam - 30%

- If you have any questions about your grades, you MUST notify the TA or the instructor within two weeks after the grades become available.
  - The grades become final after two weeks!
Late Assignments

- Late assignments are acceptable before solutions are posted or explained in class, with 10% deduction for every 24 hours. Less than 24 will be rounded to 24.
- If you have an emergency that prevents you from completing the work, contact the TA or the instructor prior to the due date.

Academic Integrity

- You must earn your credits honestly and professionally.
- The reasons?
  - This is the only way for you to learn.
  - You don't want to lose your reputation to your fellow students.
  - You don't want to be a subject of disciplinary actions.
  - ...
- Print, sign, and turn in the two Ethics statements posted on the course website
Questions?